Article 6

The organizer reserves the right to disqualify registered participants at any time if:
The Participant violates these Rules or Participant acts against the Rules of the platform.

Article 7

GameBoost (Global Gaming Services d.o.o.) is the manager of the processing of personal data of participants or competitors of the giveaway. The controller collects and processes personal data, based on consent and legitimate interest, such as name, surname, location, country, e-mail, gender, IP address, date of birth, photo, as well as other data that the Participant or competitor has made available on their GameBoost Client Area profile.

Personal data of respondents may be processed for a purpose other than that specified in the Rules if this is necessary to comply with legal obligations (e.g. to submit data to courts or law enforcement authorities), if the Participant or contestant has agreed to the appropriate processing or if the processing is in another way legal according to binding regulations. If the data is processed for another purpose, before processing, the data controller will provide data subjects with information about that other purpose.

Access to the personal data of contestants or participants in the giveaway is granted to people authorized by the processing manager, such as the marketing department, legal department and consultants who help IT support for the above systems. Authorized third parties may need to access or store personal data if required or permitted by binding regulations (e.g. government bodies, courts, outside counsel and other third parties deemed to be public authorities).

The data controller will process the data collected in the giveaway for as long as it is necessary for the above-mentioned purposes, i.e. until the end of the giveaway. We store personal data submitted as part of the application for the giveaway after the announcement of the winners, in order to resolve any complaints related to the conducted giveaway.

If the processing is based on the consent of the contestant, that is, the participant has the right to withdraw consent at any time. Withdrawal of consent must be notified to the data controller at e-mail: support@gameboost.com. Such withdrawal will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent prior to its withdrawal. If judicial, administrative or extrajudicial proceedings have been initiated, personal data may be stored until the end of such proceedings, including the possible period for filing legal remedies.

Article 8

The Organizer, as well as the legal entities that perform actions related to the implementation of the giveaway in the name and on behalf of the organizer, do not assume responsibility for:

- any consequences resulting from the incorrect use or abuse of the conditions of the giveaway by participants or competitors or third parties,
- unwanted consequences suffered by participants due to participation in the giveaway, (non)functioning of the giveaway event page, consequences of (non)functioning, regardless of the reasons for (non)functioning,
- (in)accuracy of data sent by participants or contestants in the giveaway.

Article 9

Any handling of personal data by the organizer is in accordance with the principles defined in the Data Protection Policy, available on the official website of the Organizer. Each participant has the right to request their rights (right to access, correction, deletion, restriction of processing, right to object and portability of data) from the Organizer (Processor) in accordance with the aforementioned Policy.

All questions related to data protection and the realization of their rights, the Participant can send to the Data Protection Officer at the e-mail address support@gameboost.com.

Article 10

The organizer reserves the right to change the rules and conditions of participation in the giveaway. The giveaway can only be terminated in the event that circumstances arise for which the organizer is not responsible, that is, which he could not prevent, eliminate or avoid.

The organizer will inform the participants and competitors about all changes via the official website of the Organizer.

Article 11

The winner bears no taxes, duties or fees directly related to the gifts awarded in this giveaway.

Article 12

These Rules apply from the day the giveaway is published on the Organizer's website.
